

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Sean Harder, 319-455-NEWS(6397) or sharder@stanleyfoundation.org

Expert Press Briefing after Nuclear Security Summit Journalists Can Question Nuclear Experts During Web conference

WHAT: Journalists covering the Nuclear Security Summit are invited to join an online press briefing with nuclear security experts.

WHEN: The press briefing will begin 30 MINUTES following the conclusion of President Obama's remarks planned for the afternoon of Tuesday, April 13. The press briefing will continue for 60 minutes and go longer if necessary to accommodate questions.

HOW: Go to ow.ly/1wyBu and enter your name, email, and password: NUCLEARsummit413
Call 1-866-699-3239 and enter the access code: 572 965 658 (You must call in to hear the briefing, even if logged in online)

The following members of the Fissile Materials Working Group (FMWG), a coalition of more than 40 leading experts and NGOs in nuclear security and nonproliferation, will be available to answer questions:

Matthew Bunn, associate professor at Harvard University's John F. Kennedy School of Government and co-principal investigator for the Project on Managing the Atom.

Daryl Kimball, executive director of the Arms Control Association.

Michael Landweber, associate director of the Partnership for a Secure America.

Kenneth N. Luongo, president and founder of the Partnership for Global Security and co-chair of the Fissile Materials Working Group.

Alexandra Toma, program director for the Connect U.S. Fund and co-chair of the Fissile Materials Working Group.

Elizabeth Turpen, associate at Booz Allen Hamilton and expert on nonproliferation policy.

Paul Walker, director of Global Green USA's Security and Sustainability Program.

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES:

On April 12, the FMWG is hosting the Next Generation Nuclear Security event, a parallel summit of leading nuclear security experts, the nuclear industry, and non-governmental organization from countries participating in the official summit. The event will be webcast live here: <http://ow.ly/1u5g9>

The link will remain active and an edited, archived video will be posted 24 hours after the event.

Journalists planning to cover the Nuclear Security Summit will want to visit the FMWG's Web site at www.fmwg.org for new background resources, including:

- C-SPAN footage of the FMWG's April 6 Press Briefing at the National Press Club.
- A congressional briefing on Funding the Objective of Securing all Vulnerable Nuclear Material in Four Years by Kenneth Luongo
- A congressional briefing on Securing Nuclear Stockpiles in Four Years by Matthew Bunn
- An article on Making the Nuclear Security Summit Matter: An Agenda for Action by Kenneth Luongo
- Nuclear Material Security Policy and Funding Resources by the Partnership for Global Security.
- The FMWG's letter to Congress regarding adequate nuclear security funding in FY2011
- The new Fissile Materials Working Group column in the Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists
- The FMWG's three part blog series on Nuclear Security Summit issues on the Partnership for a Secure America's "Across the Aisle" blog
- Radioactive Challenge, an original video report by the Stanley Foundation about the challenge of securing fissile materials worldwide.

###